Call for Entry

Show open to all students, grades 1-12

Kate Sullivan, Juror

Kate Sullivan likes to play around with words, music and pictures. A linguist by training (B.A. in French and Latin), she is also an award-winning composer and performer. Her one-woman theatre piece won the Independent Reviewers of New England prize and her Fugitum Est was premiered by The Kremlin Chamber Orchestra at Carnegie Hall. She has also given many solo performances, from Sculler's Jazz Club in Boston to Madame Tussaud's Wax Museum in New York. Above all, she is a storyteller who uses a multi-media approach to touch audiences. She has been painting for many years, everything from portraits and landscapes to cartoons. Kate has written and illustrated a travel memoir Eating Through Italy, a screenplay, The Secret Lives of Bartlesby Westside, On Linden Square, and numerous short stories and poetry. Kate lives with her husband Bill, in Newburyport, MA, where she is currently working on the next book about Stella Mae Culpepper and her neighbors.
