An increase in the number of adults with special needs that benefited from the OpArt program, a partnership that the NAA developed with Opportunity Works, Inc. This important outreach program consists of art classes, field trips to galleries, coordination of art exhibits and art and merchandise sales.

Over $12,000 in scholarship funds were presented to local high school juniors and seniors through ArtLink. The ArtLink program collaborates with local schools to bring unique art experiences, art exposure and training to the students.

An expanded education curriculum including classes and workshops encompassing drawing, painting, photography, sculpture, and more for all levels.

A new education partnership with the YMCA expanding our reach to the broader community.

Over 40 exceptional juried and open art exhibitions that highlight artists at all talent levels from our annual Young & Budding show to our prestigious Regional Juried Exhibition.
As our community outreach programs have demonstrated, art has the power to change lives. Art is the link between people of all ages and backgrounds. I am so proud of all the work of this organization and its dedication to the NAA does to support art in our community and keep it accessible for everyone.

I have been incredibly impressed by the work of this organization and its dedication to our community and our mission of art exhibition, art education, and community outreach. Thanks to your support, the Newburyport Art Association continues to serve the community.

Perfect Day by Sue Charles is the northeast coastal motif of the Maine she is so fond of. A painting of her first showing at ICCF’s College of Fine Arts. Sue Charles is Unit with oil on canvas with an expertly created palette. The technical skills of the artist: colors, brushwork, and composition are a hallmark of the artist’s work. Enriched by the Maine coast, Sue Charles’ art evokes the idea of a day spent outdoors by the sea. The painting captures the serene beauty of the oceanic environment and the tranquility of the landscape.

Our important work.
