

Photographer Suzanne DeGeorge

Suzanne is a passionate, award winning Newburyport photographer who has lived/worked in various states from Texas to Massachusetts. She has always had an interest in photography, but became more serious about it after she moved to New England.

Landscape and seascape photography are her favorites although she enjoys taking pictures of just about anything. She is amazed and inspired at the photo opportunities that present themselves around her every day - in every direction.

Suzanne is known for her picturesque scenes in/around Newburyport and her photos have been used by various area businesses. Her pictures have been published in the Newburyport Guidebook every year since 2010 and three of them have graced the cover.

Her work is available locally at several places in Newburyport. You can see more of her work on her website www.sdegeorge.com and on Facebook at Suzanne DeGeorge Photography.

Suzanne is a member of the Photographic Society of the Parker River National Wildlife Refuge and the Newburyport Art Association.
