

DEBRA GRUBBS

Debra began painting in watercolors while studying with Corey Staid in Andover, MA as a teenager. She studied with a variety of other artists after moving to California in the late 70's. While attending Las Positas College in Livermore, CA, she painted primarily in acrylics, receiving a more structured, formal training, eventually receiving a degree in Fine Arts, emphasis in painting. Debra was Director of Visual Arts for a program called "FAME" for the Livermore Public School system before moving back to New England.

Recently, she has been asked to give workshops on How to Create a Collage Watercolor Monotype and Encaustic Wax Painting.
