

Sandra Kavanaugh is an artist working in oils and pastels. Landscapes are a favorite theme and she enjoys capturing the beauty of the New England landscape from mountains to coast.

She graduated from Massachusetts College of Art with a BFA in Fine Art. Over the years she has enjoyed many art endeavors including a pottery studio at Loewll's Brush with History and teaching art at Salem NH High School.

Sandra is a juried member of New Hampshire Art Association and North Shore Art Association, and is a juried associate member of the Pastel Society of America. She holds membership in Newburyport Art Association, Greater Salem Art Association, and the Pastel Societies of New Hampshire and Maine.

She has lived in Pelham for 25 years and currently lives with her husband Lee and her son Drew on Little Island Pond.