

RYAN KELLEY

Ryan Kelley is a self-taught local artist who specializes in metal sculptures. Ryan joined as an Artist Plus member when he turned 18 and has been serving on the NAA Board of Directors on both the Building and Marketing Committees for several years now. His famous wire trees are made of hundreds of different metal wires, which he twists and bends before attaching them to finished cut stone bases. Depending on the type of wire, and the shape and style of the tree, he can achieve many different moods and feelings.
