

HILLARY SCOTT

Hillary Scott is a landscape painter from Groveland, Massachusetts. She earned her BFA from UMass Lowell where she was trained in illustration. Since graduating Hillary spent many years creating figurative oil paintings and working as a children's book illustrator. Within the last couple of years she has taken her career in a new direction to focus on plein air landscape painting. She is fascinated by the effects of light on objects, people, and particularly water. Hillary finds inspiration in the beautiful New England landscape and has an affinity for marshes, seas, and skies. She has created a new series of landscape paintings as she attempts to capture light, mood, and atmosphere. Hillary is a member of the Newburyport Art Association, Greater Haverhill Arts Association, and the Oil Painters of America.
