Artist Statement:

The landscape painting should take you someplace. The artist has been there and saw something to share. I really enjoy painting the scene that we pass every day on our way through our daily routines. "I think my experience in financial management lends a lot to my painting. Both require a broad interpretation of the immediate task combined with a willingness to let the process work towards a conclusion. Both require planning and time management along with the willingness to recognize the need to make adjustments along the way."

By training and profession, I am a financial manager specializing in not-for-profit and educational organizations.
