

Robert Pecchia
BIO

A resident of Cape Neddick, Maine, I have found myself enthralled by the various landscapes and seascapes that abound in New England and beyond. My love for photography has been an outgrowth of my experience in theater and the interpretive arts, and the exploration of perspectives. I thoroughly relish the peace and tranquility that is part of the experience in searching out the image, and capturing the moment. Chasing the light that paints every picture and creates the absolute beauty we see is indeed the challenge. My work has been installed across the United States as well as numerous countries around the globe.
